Crossing Coasts

52 playing cards.

Real people from Bristol and across the UK with Caribbean heritage representing five generations and 13 sectors, including the future as imagined by children.

Collect cards using the map via the QR code to find the places in Bristol with cards to takeaway for free.

Children can use the cards on their own.

Teachers can shape learning activities.

Use the cards with visitors from transnational communities in school.

Job details - Skills at work, at home or at school.

Description - what they do and how they got there.

Joker card - Blank card to make your own future.

When? Pioneers or later generations?

Where? Heritage from the Caribbean.

What is their job or impact on the UK?

These cards show how one transnational community enhances the UK in different ways. They illustrate people who are known internationally as well as people best known in Bristol. Hidden in the cards is a story that is told across different generations, job roles and community actions. It tells how people fought injustice and changed laws to help create the UK's global society.

Thank you to the people of Bristol and across the UK who helped make this card pack happen.
